LINDBERGH CARRIES OWN COOK ON HIS FLIGHT, SAYS WILL

(Special to The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June
27.—See the Lindberghs are flying west. They have their camping outfit with them. If anybody lands in your back yard and you smell bacon frying, it won't be a soul but Annie and Charley.

He is the first aviator to carry his own cook. Lucky for aviation that he picked that sensible girl. Where would we have been if he had married some other girl that thought her husband was too valuable to fly? See where Fletcher, our ambassador to Rome, is retiring. He always struck me as being about the best man we had. That's true.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Work is soon to be done out at the Y. M. C. A. camp on the Slippery Rock creek. The camp will be reconstructed for this summer's season which is scheduled to begin on July 9.

It is gratifying to learn that wool which is being raised in the country is of a better quality. Sheep raising and necessarily wool was sort of neglected here for some years. The major reason was dogs.

Right now the importance, or shall we say the unimportance, of dogs is being realized by authorities. A full time man looks out for this district with regards to dogs, and sheep raising is not obsolete any more.

New Castle will be well advertised when the scouts go to England this summer. The plan to have a big banner on their train and each of the hundreds of places that the lads will go will carry the banner of Lawrence county and New Castle.

Bernard Hamilton at the motor club office tells Pa News that but a small percentage of the roads in the United States are hard surfaced, according to a recent survey, with the number of cars now. Pa News would like to know just what will happen when all roads are improved and cars increased accordingly.

A butcher tells Pa News that the cattle transportation problem is a small one here in the city days. The butchers wasted a day merely bringing a beef in to the abattoir. Now it is done by truck in a very few minutes. Our question as to why it did not lower the price of meat was not answered.

Pa News without as much as a chance at a calculator is of the opinion that June is passing out. Haven't seen any born today, wedding, auto parade for several days. For awhile, they were daily occurrences.

Two Lawrence county villages will be hectic all day Friday. Mr. Jackson will have the Battery B. reunion and Volant will have its farm show.

Pa News heard of a local man, who planned a surprise visit to some friends in Philadelphia, while on a recent tour of the East. He was much chagrined to find his friends there awaiting him with open arms. They had read about the event several.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 27.—The Bellanca cabin monoplane, "Three Musketeers," in which Martin Jensen, his wife, Marguerite, and William Ulbrich are attempting to set a new endurance record, was successfully refueled for the first time today just as the plane was starting its thirteenth hour of sustained flight.

The Pöcker plane, "Exclamation Mark," was used as the nurse ship and more than 37 gallons of gasoline were transferred. During refueling, Mrs. Jensen and Ulbrich sat on the wings and held the hose dangling from the "Exclamation Mark" over the Bellanca's intake. The fuel was transferred in two contacts, one lasting eight minutes and the other seven. A can of food also was lowered to Jensen is expected to take on more fuel late this afternoon.

Large Assemblage Hears Dr. Tindley

Eloquent Colored Minister Brings Stirring Message On Love

COLORED CHOIR HAS SHARE IN PROGRAM

One of the largest assemblages ever to gather for a religious service in New Castle greeted America's foremost colored minister, author and lecturer, Dr. John A. Tindley of Philadelphia when he spoke at the Cathedral Wednesday evening. Fully 1,800 persons heard his sermon, the theme for which was based on the loving grace of God.

Extensive Program.
A most elaborate program was presented during the evening with special numbers rendered by the chorus of 50 colored voices, led by Mrs. Katherine Engle, featuring Rev. Samuel R. M. Jones, pastor of the Greenwood M. E. church, through whose efforts Dr. Tindley was secured, spoke first. He introduced Rev. J. L. Petrie, pastor of the Grace M. E. church, as the chairman for the evening.

Rev. Petrie greeted the audience and in a few short remarks stated that New Castle was fortunate in having Dr. Tindley here for an address. Mrs. Engle, director of the church choir, was then introduced. The choir rendered a special number. The singers were members of the Choral society and the quartet on the program was the Choral quartet.

The scripture lesson for the evening was read by the Rev. William Hodge of the Bethel A. M. E. church, Green street, and an inspiring prayer was made following the reading.

Numbers by the chorus interspersed the program and an offering was taken on to finance Dr. Tindley's expense in coming to the city. It was announced following the service that an amount which would cover every cost had been raised.

Mayor Welcomes.
In behalf of the people of New Castle, Mayor William H. Gillespie welcomed Dr. Tindley to the city. He said: "I am always glad to welcome to New Castle any man or body of men or women who make the world a better place in which to live, and it is with great pleasure that I welcome you to our city tonight."

Rev. Tindley, chairman, then called.

Ministers As Waiters When Girls Walk Out At Hotel Conneaut

(International News Service)
CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., June 27.—Ten ministerial members of the Christian Laymen's Association, conveying here, shouldered trays last night when forty-four waitresses in the Hotel Conneaut went on a sympathy strike after Mrs. Katherine Wolfe, matron for twenty years, was discharged.

Five other ministers operated the dishwasher until an emergency conference from Park, Mendville and Greenville arrived to serve 600 diners. When the strikers returned today to serve breakfast they found their places taken by a bevy of school teachers from Edinboro, Indiana and Slippery Rock.

Mrs. Wolfe was discharged by the management following a verbal battle in the lobby with the head clerk, the hotel officials said.

Everything was busy today, the ministers were happy, and the convention continued serenely.

Coroner's Jury Hears Evidence In Boy's Death

Verdict Says Driver Was Unable To Avoid Hitting Boy

ALL TESTIMONY IS IN AGREEMENT

Inquest Is Conducted By Coroner In Death Of Orville Fenati

"We, the jury, find that Orville Fenati, 339 Laurel Boulevard, came to his death, Sunday, June 23, 1929, as a result of injuries sustained Saturday, June 22, 1929 on Highland avenue between Park and Boyles avenues, when struck by the automobile of John Dye, while being operated by L. J. Blair. We believe the accident was unavoidable and that the driver did everything possible to avoid hitting the little boy."

The above verdict was reached last night by the jury sitting in the inquest in the case of Orville Fenati, little seven year old boy, who died as a result of injuries sustained as he was struck by the Dye machine while operated by L. J. Blair and while he was running across Highland avenue. The inquest was held at the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz.

Extensive Evidence
The evidence submitted was extensive and conclusive to the effect that the driver of the machine could not avoid hitting the little boy and that he did everything within his power to avoid doing so.

A remarkable feature of the inquest was the number of actual witnesses of the unfortunate accident and the manner in which their testimony was in agreement.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell presided and District Attorney J. Elder Bryan conducted the examination of the witnesses. The members of the jury were Harry Turner, Samuel Winter, C. W. Haas, H. K. Bell, Clifford James and Robert R. Corp.

Driver Testifies
L. J. Blair, driver of the accident car, was the first witness called and stated in part as follows:—That he resided at 903 West Madison avenue and that he was driving the automobile of John Dye on Highland avenue last Saturday afternoon about 3:15 o'clock when the accident occurred.

He was driving south on Highland between Park and Boyles avenues and about in front of the light colored brick building in which the Miller Beauty shop is located and going at a speed estimated from 20 to 25 miles an hour. He stated on being questioned relative to the speed, that this was his judgment.

The first he saw of the boy was when he came out from in front of an Essex coach, parked in front of (Continued On Page Five)

Postoffice Department To Ask Appropriation For New Building

TO MAKE REQUEST
DURING WINTER

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington News Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The query made by the Federal treasury department as to what price the Martin Gutzwiller school property might be purchased for does not indicate that the department plans to buy the property as the site of the new postoffice for New Castle but is merely one of the preliminary steps taken by treasury officials to determine how much should be written into the budget for next year as the probable cost of the new building.

Acting Superintendent James A. Wimer says that the query regarding the Martin Gutzwiller site was made chiefly to determine approximately what the treasury department will have to pay for a desirable site in New Castle for the federal building. It is practically certain that an appropriation for the building of the New Castle project will be asked by the treasury department next December or early in January, and treasury officials are desirous of learning how much they will have to pay for a site in New Castle so that they may adjust their request for appropriations to the needs of the case.

When the appropriation is authorized, the treasury department will advertise through newspapers for offers of land for the new site. Following the opening of such bids here, a site agent will be sent to New Castle to inspect the various tracts of land offered, and will make a written report to the joint treasury and postoffice building committee and that committee will decide upon some definite site, selected upon the consideration of the price and the report of the agent. The lowest priced site will not necessarily be purchased, for the committee will make its decision to a certain extent upon the agent's report as to the desirability of location of the various tracts of land offered and such other factors as closeness to railroad stations, public utilities, sewage system and the surrounding traffic conditions.

convention over the papers found in my bag. One attempts to read some German pamphlets which I had brought with me, another is struggling with a French paper. They all look puzzled over some letters from my wife, as such endearing terms are not used in Russia. My own hastily penciled notes are especially baffling to them. I have to explain each in turn. For no literature is allowed to enter Russia without passing a rigid censorship. I shall not be able to read an English newspaper during all the time I am in Russia. Finally, they decide to pass up my papers.

But then an official spies my typewriter. The poor little second hand Corona doesn't have a chance. They pounce on it forthwith. No one but a newspaper correspondent can have a typewriter. And they pick their own newspaper correspondents. I feel lost without that typewriter.

We finally emerged and are taken in a swaying chariot called a "droschka" to a hotel known as "Grand Hotel d'Europe." It is a massive structure, extending the length of a block. And a Leningrad block represents the maximum in blocks. It was formerly the rendezvous of the nobility of all the Russias. It has an imposing facade, now beginning to peel at the edges. It has been taken over by the Leningrad Soviet. Not knowing what else to do with it, they are attempting to run it as a hotel. We enter a lobby which is dazing with mirrors and chandeliers like a regal court. The attendants are attired in black and red smocks and sumptuous whiskers. On our arrival they bestir themselves to the extent of lighting up their cigarettes. No one offers to take my bags.

It appears that the lighting of a cigarette is a symbol of the new Bolshevik freedom. For in former days a servant or a private was compelled to throw away his cigarette on the approach of his superior. He could not smudge his palm as he saluted. Away it had to go even if he had just lighted it. So now they blow cigarette smoke in your face just to demonstrate that they are your equals. Most of the men lounging about look like rugged miners whom I used to see in small Montana mining camps. They wear a barrier in language. They are not able to tell me that they are not as bad as they look.

BEAUTIFUL DESSERT
A lovely dessert is made by using French ice cream as a base, topping the whole dish of it with glazed fresh strawberries and using strips of almonds to mark off the top as if it were a pie.

The effort of modern women to be like men proves that intuition isn't much of an asset.

The Beauty parlor previously mentioned. He was not over three feet from the machine, when he first saw him. He did not see the boy on the sidewalk, nor did he see where he came from.

When he did see the boy, Blair stated that he was running. Mr. Blair immediately applied his brakes and turned to the left as far as possible, going almost straight across the street, and almost to the curb on the east side of the street as the accident occurred. The streets were dry and in good shape he stated.

Blair stated that he got out of the automobile, and went toward the boy, who grabbed himself in the side as he cried out that he wanted to go to his mother. He was up and running at the time but finally slowed up as Mr. Blair reached him and picked him up and placed him in the Dye machine and rushed him to the Shenango Valley Hospital.

The boy was running as he was crossing the street, according to Mr. Blair and was struck by the bumper of his car and knocked to the street, rolling over several times and the right hand front wheel of the car went over him.

Blair stated that he did not see the body of the boy until he was picked up by the Dye car and was operating it at the time on his own responsibility and that he had a driver's license, which he produced. He was of the opinion that his machine was about even with the parked Essex coach and about a foot and a half away from it, just before the accident occurred.

Passenger Testifies
Elis Dye stated that he resided at 13 North Liberty street and was in the front seat of the car with Blair when the accident occurred. He estimated the speed at which they were traveling at from eighteen to twenty miles an hour. He had noticed an increase in speed as they approached the point of accident. He had noticed the Essex coach parked at the side of the street. He also had not seen the boy until he ran out from in front of the Essex directly in front of their car.

He had seen the bumper hit the boy and felt the vibration caused as the car went over the body of the boy. He had gone to the hospital with Blair and the boy and had assisted in taking off the clothing of the injured boy. He had noticed an injury on the right hand side of the boy's head. He was under the impression that the bumper hit the boy about the abdomen. His story agreed in all details with that of Blair.

Robert Robson, who was also in the front seat of the car when it hit the boy, testified along the same lines as the other occupants of the car and corroborated their statements as to the manner in which the accident occurred and the speed at which the machine was being operated.

Edward J. Miller testified that he was driving north on Highland avenue at about the Boyles avenue intersection as the accident occurred and had a full and unobstructed view of the same. He first noticed the boy in front of the parked Essex coach. The boy was rather short in stature, he thought. He had seen the boy running and was about two or three feet in front of the car operated by Blair and saw the Blair car swing to the left to avoid the boy. The boy was struck by the bumper, between the right hand side and center of it. Both the right front and back wheels of the machine passed over the boy. He dropped up just before the accident occurred and got out and went to the scene. He had advised Blair to rush the boy to the hospital as he was badly hurt.

Richard Rose of the Barry Apartment, which adjoins the building in front of which the accident occurred, heard screams and rushed to the porch in time to see Blair pick up the boy and start for the hospital. He told of some woman screaming out that it wasn't the driver's fault.

H. W. Behm of the Pennard service station told of noticing the parked Essex car and having his attention attracted to the accident by the squealing of the brakes and locking of the window in time to see the boy roll on the pavement and one wheel go over him.

Clara Seiler, a boy residing at Highland and Laurel Boulevard, was running down the east side of Highland avenue at the time at Boyles avenue and heard the brakes of the car and hearing screams, saw the car swerve and the back wheel go over the boy. He had noticed the boy as he was running down the other side and previous to the accident but was not sure that the French boy had seen him. He thought the boy might have been on the curb then.

John Dye, owner of the car, stated that he had given Blair permission to use the car and that he understood that he was going to the park to swim. He first learned of the accident when Blair returned about 5:30 or 6 o'clock and had gone at once to the hospital. Michael Conit, grandfather of the accident victim, then testified as to the time of death and stated that internal injuries had caused death.

John Dye, aged 12, a boy from Meadville, who was visiting his sister in the Barry building, heard screams and rushing out had seen the right back wheel pass over the French boy's body. He had seen the boy picked up and taken away to the hospital. He said the boy was struck when he was between the rails of the southbound street car track.

It was said that Mr. and Mrs. Penit had always cautioned Cyril about the danger from automobiles, and as a result he had always been cautious. After he had been taken to the hospital he told his mother that he had looked back ways before starting to cross the street.

It is believed that he must have stepped at the curb in front of the car and at the time he looked back he must have observed his vision of the approaching car. Thinking that he had a clear track, he started to run across the street.

on Rev. Richard Tindley, a prominent speaker at the meeting. Rev. Tindley said he would like to have an hour and a half to preach to Dr. Tindley, however, he had to leave at 10 o'clock. There are many more here and out of the crowd who

Dr. Tindley said he was glad that he had been able to see the people who were so interested in his work. He said he was glad to see the people who were so interested in his work. He said he was glad to see the people who were so interested in his work.

Dr. Tindley told a brief story of his life, how he was lost an orphan in early life, how he was found by his parents, how he was placed under the guardianship of an orphanage and how and how he finally became the devoted Christian that he is. The audience listened attentively to his message of hope and faith and many were baptized, as he had his service started.

In discussing God's love, Dr. Tindley first offered prayer, and then testified that he was dependent on his Creator. He testified his heart to the Spirit and thanked God for his love.

"God is the greatest of all," he said. "If there is no God, there is no truth. If there is no God, there is no love. If there is no God, there is no hope. If there is no God, there is no life. If there is no God, there is no peace. If there is no God, there is no joy. If there is no God, there is no happiness. If there is no God, there is no salvation. If there is no God, there is no heaven. If there is no God, there is no hell. If there is no God, there is no nothing."

Continuing, Dr. Tindley pointed out clear illustrations of love. He said that if you abuse the world, the world will surely abuse you; if you smile at the world, it will smile back at you. The world echoes you in whatever you do and say.

His message was enthusiastic, to receive and the audience listened to it with ardor. The gathering came with applause and many were baptized. Another service is to be held and a vocal solo by Mrs. Roush and the closing benediction pronounced by Dr. Charles B. Wheeler, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, closed the program.

Seated at the platform during the evening, besides the choir and the speaker, Dr. Tindley, was Dr. Crowe, national president of the Y. M. C. A., William D. Wimer, Rev. McMillan, Rev. Hulse and Rev. Hulse.

Several hundred people listened with rapt attention to the excellent message presented by Dr. Tindley, Wednesday afternoon in the Third Baptist church.

The speaker chose for his theme "The New Birth" taking his text as recorded in John's Gospel, "I, the light of man, he that is born of God, shall have the life of God."

COLD PLATES
For a light cold plate that is really a luncheon in itself, try the following: Place a ramekin of chilled cottage cheese, topped by paprika, in the center. On one side slice hard-boiled eggs and tomatoes on lettuce, with Russian dressing.

On the other use cucumbers with watercress and French dressing. Thin triangular sandwiches of either dressed ham or chicken can finish the plate.

Forestry Forces Prepare To Keep Low Fire Record

Spurred By Small Number In Spring, Prepare For Autumn

HARRISBURG, June 27.—Spurred on by the exceptional spring forest fire season just closed, during which previous low records in forest fire damage and effective fire extinction were broken, the Department of Forests and Waters is already laying plans to meet the usual fall season with greater determination than ever. Chief Forest Fire Warden George H. Wirt said today.

Special attention is being given to more than 800 miles of telephone lines which are an important link in conducting the Commonwealth's system of 115 towers with headquarters of foresters, rangers and fire wardens. Sixty-nine miles of telephone lines in the Delaware State Forest, Pike and Monroe counties, which have just been entirely rebuilt, connecting four rangers and four towers with the District Forester's headquarters at Stroudsburg, are an example of the work that is being done in other forest districts. There are 17 fire wardens in the Delaware District alone.

Connection of State forest telephone lines from remote forest regions, with established commercial lines, gives assurance of immediate reports to the fire fighting crews—the Minute Men of Forest Protection—who are prepared to respond at a moment's notice.

The enlarged corps of volunteer forest fire wardens now includes 4,200 men in all parts of the State, and particularly in sections where forest fires are commonest and most destructive. "Special credit is due these volunteer wardens," Chief Warden Wirt said, "who, often at personal sacrifice, so faithfully perform their duties on behalf of the Commonwealth. The service they render is inspiring more and more citizens to participate in forest protection measures."

One thousand patented forest fire fighting tools of the type developed after years of experience in Pennsylvania, and selected as one of the most efficient instruments in forest fire control by the Department, are being distributed. Three hundred knapsack spray tanks have also been ordered for active service during the approaching fall season.

A new 20-foot tower will be erected in the Cook Forest which will serve the dual purpose of providing protection to this $550,000 forest and to adjacent regions, as well as affording tourist and travelers exceptional scenic views of this mountain region. In addition to the usual closed cabin on top of all towers, the Cook Forest tower is equipped with a series of special observation platforms with ample guard rails and protective features. The Cook tower is the eleventh tower added in the last two years to the State-wide system of 115 towers.

In response to a very earnest plea for help, Mrs. George W. Conway, of New Castle, came to Gardner, last Thursday evening and started a class in Teacher Training. Dog Owners Warned To Keep

"Keep that dog chained at night or you may not have a dog in the morning."

This is the matter of fact, but very firm statement of the local representative of the state bureau of animal industry.

Lawrence county and New Castle persons who own dogs have been co-operating with the law in practically all but this one phase and all dogs should be chained by the owners at night.

Reports state that a large number of dogs are running loose through the night time and these dogs will be shot and the owners presented to the fullest extent of the law.

A large number are being prosecuted in Beaver county at the present time for this offense and the state bureau representative is giving dog owners a fair warning.

SYNTHETIC BLOOD

Much talk these days about synthetic things—principally gin. But something vastly more important than gin can be made synthetically, and its use may soon become practical. It's blood. The production of haemoglobin, chief constituent of red color in blood, interests medical circles. Some German physicians believe synthetic blood may mean a remedy or cure for anemia. Non-synthetic haemoglobin has been made from ox blood. The chemically pure substance has more value.

ALCOHOL AND RUSSIA

Russia, very radical in many ideas, is getting conservative on the subject of alcohol. The Anti-Alcohol society there has 100,000 members. Last year Russia spent $750,000,000 on vodka and other intoxicating drinks. The society is making such an impression that in the first three months of this year the Russian drink bill was $2,000,000 less than for the first three months last year.

The W. C. T. U., thinking of old days in the United States, will be interested to hear that thousands of children have been parading before factory gates one day with banners asking their fathers to quit drinking.

UNION MOTHERS

Some agitation in England in favor of a trade union for mothers. It will never work. Mothers will always put in over-time, wear themselves out under any and all conditions, abide by no rules of health and comfort. Not much chance for a trade union of mothers so long as children keep on demanding everything and getting it.

THE IDLE

MacDonald, Britain's new prime minister, faces the overwhelming problem of unemployment. This is more serious than America's farm problem, more serious than the over-production of wheat, the high cost of living, and all the other matters that we complain about. America knows little of English poverty. We touch only the borders of misery.

Mr. Hoover has grave problems to solve. But Mr. MacDonald's are more difficult.

PRESIDENT IS AGAINST PLAN

Not In Favor Of Propaganda In Schools It Is Intimated

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff
WASHINGTON, June 27.—If the prohibition higher-ups ever had any idea of attempting to have prohibition courses introduced in the public schools, that plan has been definitely vetoed at the White House, it was learned today.

President Hoover was not impressed with that form of educational activity and so expressed himself. The same view has been adopted by high officials of the treasury and prohibition commissioner, J. M. Dorian, who not only repudiated the school drive but decided not to permit the distribution of the educational pamphlets until he had time to peruse them thoroughly.

On whose authority the prohibition pamphlets were prepared has not been disclosed. If appeared certain, however, that their issuance came as a complete surprise to Secretary Mellon, undersecretary of the Treasury, Ogden L. Mills and Assistant Secretary Seymour Lowman. In charge of prohibition.

Announcement of the propaganda campaign was made by a subordinate at the prohibition bureau while Commissioner Dorian was out of the city. Immediately on his return a formal statement was issued explaining the treasury's position, with only indefinite reference to the use of the $50,000 congressional appropriation authorized to educate the public as to the advantages of prohibition.

Rum Chiefs To Use Airplanes To Bring Booze

By BURL A. ELY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, June 27.—The rum-running airplane will be the most effective weapon in the fight against bootlegging, according to the army, which is now planning to use it to bring down the order from the air.

The airplane, according to some reports, will be used by a team of men, one of whom will be in the cockpit, another in the rear, and a third in the middle, who will be in charge of the cargo.

The "rum-runners" will be using the airplane to bring down the order from the air, and the army is now planning to use it to bring down the order from the air.

Once again, the army is using the airplane to bring down the order from the air, and the army is now planning to use it to bring down the order from the air.

From a reasonably authoritative source, it has been learned that some of the "big time" rum chiefs have already entered negotiations with airplane manufacturers for a fleet of planes.

Operations of the new "system" of rum smuggling would be liquor-laden planes zooming mysteriously to isolated fields—never twice to the same field—safe away from the rum town border.

Landing at these fields under cover of darkness by the aid of flashing flood lights, the cargoes would be quickly transferred to powerful auto-

The rum-running airplane will be the most effective weapon in the fight against bootlegging, according to the army, which is now planning to use it to bring down the order from the air.

Through such a "system," it is pointed out, distribution power will be greater. Furthermore, rum-runners claim that it is safer and less expensive than an airplane.

The less competition the more profits, the rum-runners say, and suggest that they will be able to profit from the early days of prohibition when liquor customers paid high prices and liked it.

Attractive Frocks For Fat And Forty

By ALICE LANGELEIR,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 27.—Although the women for fat and forty frocks are few and far between these days, smart French dressmakers do not let their wares go unprovided.

Many of them in fact are very proud of their ability to make a large and none-too-young woman look attractive.

There is an excellent street frock of navy blue crepe marocain made with a surplice front with white and enameled bands which give a slimming effect. And there is a really smart afternoon frock of the coat dress type which comes of black georgette fastened at the waist with three sparkling rhinestone buttons and opening over a foundation of beige lace.

Simple and well cut lines are imperative for the women who are no longer young and lute. Little emphasis is put upon flares, godets, and trimmings which hang.

A practical ensemble of the fat and forty category consists of black poplin lined with red crepe de Chine and a frock of the same red material with narrow enameled bands ending in long narrow tabs all hand-made and very effective.

For evening, for the fat and forty there is a black georgette made with a surplice front with white and enameled bands which give a slimming effect. Perfect Weather At Mamaroneck For Golf Battles

BILL MELHORN HAS HARD LUCK

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service
MAMARONECK, N. Y., June 27.—Perfect weather, sunny, cool and delightful—and imperfect golf featured the opening of the national open golf championship today. The early starters finding Winged Foot's reputed terrors to be far from exaggerated. Jones, Hagen, Farrell, Diegel, Horton Smith and the other head-liners were not among the early worms that failed to catch the birdie, however.

In Coach Lake Forest, Ill., amateur, was in the first pair and went to the ninth in 45 strokes. He played with Ken Donnelly, Philadelphia, who shot a 40 to the turn.
Bob McDonald, Chicago veteran needed 39 strokes for the first nine, but his partner, Arthur H. Andrews, Davenport, Iowa, shot the first nine in a par 36. His performance included birdies at the fifth and ninth.

Willie MacKenzie, the 1923 champion, took 46 strokes to the turn, while Lev Goldbeck, his partner from Philadelphia, was two strokes under that score.

Harry Cooper, the ex-Californian now playing out of Buffalo also took 38 to the turn and a lot of bows at the ninth green. Here he got an eagle 3 by sinking his chip shot from a spot well off the green. Harry is like that—sometimes.

Roland Mackenzie, Washington amateur, joined Andrews with a 36 for the first nine.
George Dawson, Chicago amateur and brother of Johnny, the British finalist, got 38 for the first nine. Fred Baran, Connecticut, Pa., had a 37. Dawson and Mackenzie, both amateurs, were the only early contestants to get birdies at the fearsome eighth hole. Mackenzie was using a driver, borrowed from Horton Smith, and was hitting them far and handsome but not wide.

Most of the nine-hole totals were wider than a bartender's smile. Al Watrous, who once finished third in the British open, was 40. George Von Elm, the Crown Prince of amateurs, needed 41 strokes too.

Horton Smith mismanaged the ninth to take a 5 for a medal score of 38 to this point, pushing his second to the edge of a trap and being very wide with his chip.

It remained for Bill Melhorn the unconventional one to furnish the flip of the morning's exercises. William took a 10 on the sixth hole and if that doesn't put him out of the running, something else undoubtedly will.

Jones, Diegel and Farrell were far from perfect themselves in the early going. Bobby getting a long, straight ball off the tee but catching a trap with his approach. Farrell, the champion started 5-6-4 and Diegel with two 5-5.

Jones recovered neither wisely nor too well from the trap at the first and finally took a 6. He was even par at the second with a 4 but followed with a 5 at the short third, making him four strokes over par to this point.

Diegel hit his stride after the second hole, however, and raced to the turn in 34 one under par. Matham, outside of that terrible 10 also played more than well, being only 42 strokes to the turn in spite of his wretched performance at the sixth.

Solomon's Rival

Solomon's wisdom had nothing on the judicial prowess of Superior Court Judge Walter S. Gates, of Los Angeles, when he was called upon to decide which of two rival stomach remedies was the genuine article and which the imitation. He retired from the bench for a week with both bottles prepared to give them a personal trial. Above he is starting to weigh the evidence with a dose of remedy number one, while number two, in the other bottle, awaits the judge's recovery from the effects of the first.

VACATIONING?

See That Post Office Officials
Have Your Forwarding
Address

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The postmaster of New Castle has been requested by the post office department to give the greatest possible publicity to the importance of persons temporarily leaving their homes for vacation period giving a proper, specific and complete post-office address in order that their mail may be promptly transmitted or forwarded and thus promote a mutual service.
Much unnecessary annoyance, inconvenience, and disappointment results from the failure of vacationists to advise their friends and others, including postmasters, as to their correct post office address while temporarily absent from their regular addresses. F. A. Tilton, assistant postmaster general states.
With the vacation period here and thousands of persons leaving their homes for summer resorts, special care should be taken by postal patrons to see that a correct forwarding address is left with their postmaster and friends, Mr. Tilton states.

It is now proposed to convert a number of the closed New York theaters into swimming pools. A great forward step in cleansing the stage.—The Utica Observer-Dispatch.

Victor Wagner, Blind, Is Active Boy Scout

Victor Wagner of 415 Green avenue and blind is an active Boy Scout in Lawrence County Council.

The young lad has passed all of his tenderfoot tests and is now rated as an achievement scout. In addition to this he is one of the most outstanding scouts in Elk's troop, No. 5 of which William Haley is scoutmaster.

The story of his entrance scout dates back to the winter months when the scouts would bring Victor to the meetings as a good turn.

Victor in turn would play many selections on his harmonica and would listen to the boys at work.

A pair of sensitive hands soon showed him the way in which all of the many tenderfoot scout knots were tied and it was not long until the lad was a full fledged scout.

As it would be practically impossible for the boy to do some of the tests he will be aided by an achievement scout but a scout nevertheless.

He is one of the few boys who when blind have passed the Boy Scout tests.

Tourist Traffic Stupendous This Year, Says Hanlon

Tourists Flock Through New Castle And National Totals Swell

An increase in tourist traffic is seen this year, states B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club, by the number of tourists publications which the American Automobile Association, organization with which the local club is affiliated, has issued.

Already, there are over 5,000,000 touring publications issued and tourists are estimated to number over 40,000,000 annually.

In addition to the national outlook, the experience of the local club is identical. There are few days that at least half a hundred cars do not stop at the local club headquarters and considering the percentage that do not halt, there are several hundred passing through this city daily.

Such was the demand of late that the club office is not closed one minute from nine a. m. to nine p. m.

Manager Hanlon reports a heavy trend of tourists toward points east and also reports a large number of New Castle persons who are making a tour.

Act Applies To Bloomsburg Only; Boroughs Worry

HARRISBURG, June 27.—Cumulative voting in municipal elections in Pennsylvania is abolished under the provisions of an act passed by the 1929 session of the legislature. Such voting in recent years has only been permitted in one community, Bloomsburg, which was incorporated as a town, the only town in Pennsylvania.

The new act, while not mentioning Bloomsburg, applies only to that town. Secretary of Internal Affairs James F. Woodward commented today, but many borough officials throughout Pennsylvania have been led to believe that the act makes changes in all municipal elections. Scores of in-

Thrown Into River To Cover Up Crime

GALLIPOLIS, O., June 27.—The battered head of a man was found in the sand on the Ohio river bank at Greenup by Robert Callahan and Edward Marx, two lads of Greenup who were watching a showboat land. Refusing Citizenship To Dr. MacIntosh Is Controversial Point

Senators LaFollette, and

Movement Provoked To Pro-

"Freedom Of Thought"

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 27.—The denial of citizenship to Dr. Douglas C. MacIntosh, former army chaplain and a professor at Yale University school, coming on the heels of the Rosina Schimmer case, today provoked a movement among liberals in congress to provide a guarantee for "freedom of thought" in the naturalization laws.

citizenship taken away if the ruling against MacIntosh and Professor MacIntosh was carried to its logical conclusion.

"The provision of the constitution guaranteeing religious liberty and freedom of thought has been violated by this decision against Dr. MacIntosh," said LaFollette. "Even during the war, when this country was in the throes of hysteria, we provided that those whose teachings or religious affiliations forbade them to bear arms, were given non-combatant status under the draft act."

"It certainly is a violation of the liberties upon which this government was founded when an able man of learning can be excluded from citizenship because he resented the settlement of international disputes through the medium of war. As a matter of fact, this government already has renounced war by ratifying the Kellogg-Brand treaty. Perhaps efforts will now be made to rescind the citizenship of the senators who voted to ratify that pact."

"Certainly it is no more a crime for an applicant for citizenship to declare he doesn't believe in war than for a citizen to discharge his official duties by binding his country to the renunciation of war."

Burglary Attempt At Wampum Store

Glass Is Broken With Brick But Burglary Is Frustrated

(Special To The News)
WAMPUM, Pa., June 27.—An effort to get into the Wampum hardware store on Railroad street was made Wednesday night or early this morning.

When the Davis's went to the store this morning the large plate glass window was broken the brick used was inside but nothing taken.

The supposition is those who did it thought by breaking the window they could reach in and open the door but the door cannot be opened without the key inside nor out, therefore they could not get anything out very handy and may have been frightened away as no one seems to know anything more than the Davis family.

PARIS, June 27.—Sorbonne students here are emulating Nebuchadnezzar. He saw the writing on the wall first—and now they are studying their lessons as projected on the class room wall by the new photoscope.

This machine, very similar to a moving picture projector although far less complicated, is revolutionizing educational work here and is about to revolutionize the publishing business as well.

For this machine is leading to the projection of books, page by page, on any surface, and at a price far less expensive than the books of today.

This new era in publishing will result in libraries of small films, about the size of ordinary kodak films, instead of serried rows of expensively bound volumes.

One foresees the straphanger enjoying his evening paper as projected on the back of his fellow traveler. And the tabloids will become lively motion pictures of the late murders, divorces and kidnappings.

One can imagine the cook staring at the I-have-you-my-proud-beauty sort of literature burning the kitchen wall while she burns the evening meal.

Used heretofore chiefly for the purpose of bringing to the individual a facsimile of ancient manuscripts to be seen only in museums, this machine is now being sold for private reading and moreover, is being bought.

Foreign Minister Briand might consider meeting Benito Mussolini in Monaco for one of those private conversations which sometimes make diplomatic history—but not in Beaulieu, France.

Parliamentary circles re-echo with a story that credits Briand with this preference and alleges that Francois Coty, multi-millionaire perfumer, who does big things in a big way, is out a pretty penny because of it.

Coty is giving the public a two-cent newspaper and making the "five-cent" ring like it. Against this spectacular effort stands the complete failure of his reported attempt to bring about a lovefeast between two statesmen whose interchanges, if diplomatic, are not coated with saccharine.

Apparently feeling that each minister ought to come halfway Coty purchased the old Gordon Bennett villa at Beaulieu, according to the story, and arranged with the railroad company to build a sidetrack into the private garden.

Thus the ministerial cars from Rome and Paris could be shunted under the shelter of the garden palms and away from the eyes of the propagandist press.

M. Briand is said to have vetoed the suggestion immediately. "Beaulieu is not neutral territory," he explained. "I might consider Monaco—but Beaulieu, never."

Strong arms and quick trigger fingers are not asked of the Paris police. But they must be linguists.

For the police here are not required to keep law and order so much as to give information.

The askers of information are always as weak in French as they are strong in curiosity.

Of recent months the gendarmerie has been undergoing severe training, not in how to get your man, but how to describe in every language including Esperanto, how to get to the next street car stop, where to eat American food, or whether it's likely to rain.

The force has just undergone a test. At the head of the class stood one proud speaker of eight languages, while the others spoke from four up.

Employers Must Carry Insurance

HARRISBURG, June 27.—For the purpose of prosecuting all employers of labor in Pennsylvania who fail or refuse to take out compensation insurance for the protection of their employees, Secretary Peter Glick, head of the Department of Labor and Industry, has directed that all such cases be reported to his department. Instructions to send in these reports were forwarded to all compensation adjusters of the department by W. H. Horner, director of the bureau of workmen's compensation. A number of suits against such delinquent employers recently were filed in Allegheny county.

Under an amendment to the compensation law which became effective April 26, any employer failing to provide compensation insurance for employees, upon conviction, shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500, or be imprisoned for not more than six months of both. Every day's violation constitutes a separate offense under the law.

POLICE WAIT HOURS BUT CAPTURE STILL

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 27.—Patient police Wednesday credited themselves with "haul" of a still, 475 gallons of mash, and a quantity of whiskey, at the home of Ruth Slater, here. The police waited several hours for the raid until their noses told them the still was in operation.

These rich suds are easy on clothes, too

EVER since Rinso, the hard-water soap, was discovered . . . scrubbing has been out of date! Now clothes can be soaked whiter than you ever scrubbed them. In Rinso's thick suds the dirt loosens, floats off—and all you need to do is rinse! Even boiling isn't needed.

Rinso is safe; the makers of 36 leading washers recommend it. And economical! Cupful for cupful, it gives more suds than lightweight, puffed-up soaps. Lasting suds—even in hardest water—and no softener needed! Try Rinso next washday. Try it for dishes, too.

THE GOODNESS of old-time cooking . . . in an easy, modern way

WHEN housewives of Colonial days laden their tables with savory, steaming, Dutch-oven dishes, they set traditions of good cooking that only the Westinghouse "Flavor Zone" oven can equal. For this most modern of electric ovens cooks by the same method that produced the crackling brown roast turkeys, fragrant gingerbread, rich baked beans and spicy puddings of long ago. It first browns the food to perfection, then cooks it to wonderful tenderness, without any watching or tending during the whole cooking process.

You can put the entire evening meal in the cold oven when you are clearing up after lunch—or during the morning, if you want most of the day free from household duties. Then you set the clock and adjust the thermostat on the oven door.

The current comes on automatically at just the right time. At just the right temperature, it is automatically shut off. Cooking continues by stored heat until everything is done to a turn. Delicious results are certain because every step in the cooking process is controlled with scientific precision. And you can always duplicate your best results.

TWENTY DOLLARS FOR FIZZ WATER!

Central Park Casino, New York, recently opened in a swanky manner by wealthy young men headed by J. Drexel Biddle, and the object of public curiosity because of its stiff prices, once more makes page one with the arrest of a customer for refusing to pay $20 for a bottle of mineral water. Released by the court, who said the restaurant could sue, the aggrieved diner declared he just had paid a $30 bill for his party. Casino people say he stayed so long at the table $3 apiece cover charge went into effect before water was ordered. Above is the entrance to the Casino, with high-toned footman waiting for autos.

Boy Scouts Frolic At Camp Phillips

A hike to various points of interest about the camp proved the feature of the afternoon program at Camp Phillips yesterday with all the budding Boy Scouts clamoring for a trip about camp. Camp Director LeRoy Norton arranged a tour of the country side under the leadership of Perry Ueber, Assistant County Executive, who is at the camp in charge of the Young Boy Program. The boys hiked four miles and returned to camp by a different route. They were in high spirits after their return and after a hot meal were put into an excellent mood, prepared by the boys in a way which would have astonished a number of parents. The camp menu has been of the best with meat, milk, fresh food and vegetables every day.

Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan has been commended by parents of the boys and numerous visitors, on the excellence of the camp, its program, and facilities.

But inspection was won today by Kiwanis Hut No. 11. Its leader is Mac Leslie and the boys in this hut are Grant Brundage, Bob Perrott, Bob White, Bob McNeil, Jack Cunningham, Bill Brownman, Brundley Straubach and Paul Bartel. This is the second time the honors have been carried away by this hut.

Staff leaders accord the honors today for boys camp spirit from Revelle to Taps to Fred McWilliams and Billy Boston. The Camp Fire numbers which were awarded a great amount of applause were magicians Moore and Reid, the champion bagpipers, Bob McNeil and George Oberligner, the musician, Gale McCoy and the dancer, Gail Morrison.

High point honors for the day went to Jim Foster with 120 points and second place to Dick Stevenson with 105 points. The Younger Boys are out to earn scalps by Saturday night, if possible.

The Boy Scouts at camp staged a close race for high honors with Joe Snyder of Rotary Troop No. 1 coming out on top with 190 points and Dan Ryan a close second with 180 points.

While the younger boys were on a hike, a baseball game was staged by the Scouts. Herb Christman pitched his team to victory in a five inning battle with the team captained by Wesley Mann. The score was 11 to 8.

Tenderfoot tests were passed by Bill Shira and Bob McCann. Merit Badge tests in music and swimming were passed by Bob Aiken of Troop 17 and basketball by Herb Christman Troop 17.

Visitors Day will be observed on Friday with a special Campfire Program on Friday night. All parents and friends of the boys are invited to attend and inspect the camp and enjoy the program.

Calls On Kiwanis To Uphold Hoover

Ohioan Appeals For Support Of Program Of Law Enforcement

MILWAUKEE, June 27.—Kiwanis International was called upon Wednesday afternoon to lend united support to President Hoover's program of law enforcement and obedience by Wilby G. Hyde, Chillicothe, O., chairman of the organization's public affairs committee. Mr. Hyde's plea was made before the thirteenth annual convention in the committee's annual report.

No executive of the nation has ever made a more challenging statement, said Mr. Hyde, than Mr. Hoover in declaring law enforcement and obedience the dominant issue before the American people.

"Laxity in enforcement of existing exclusion laws by 'bootlegging' methods widely and profitably practiced by an organized industry evidence the need of drastic preventative legislation," Mr. Hyde's report stated. "Enforcement may be greatly aided by strong laws requiring registration of immigrants and subjecting them to the burden of proof as to their rightful legal entry and domicile."

"Confidence in and respect for judicial authority is fundamental, hence the pressing need for such reforms as will restore to our courts public esteem and confidence," he added.

At the same time Harold M. Diggon, Victoria, B. C., chairman of a similar committee for Canada, presented a report recommending that Canadian Kiwanians associate themselves with the League of Nations in carrying out a program of international good will.

A new public attitude toward agriculture and the frank recognition of the facts as to the agricultural situation is needed more than any one piece of legislation to bring economic justice to the farmer, former Gov.

Frank O. Lowden of Illinois told the convention.

With the attainment of these ends, he held, ways to restore the proper balance between agriculture and industry will present themselves.

One way in which the ills of agriculture may be remedied, Lowden said, is to change the present method of taxation. The farmer is being cost a great injustice, he contended, by the existing methods, inasmuch as intangible property escapes direct taxation while farm land, always tangible property, is made to bear the greatest burden of the cost of government.

Horace W. McDavid, Decatur, Ill., attorney, will be recommended Thursday for the presidency of Kiwanis International. It was learned today following a caucus of district representatives.

Nominations for the board of trustees include: Carl E. Buehler, Indiana; Albert E. Dyer, Wisconsin; W. V. Michael, A. Gurnea, Fla.; Nash and Herbert Moore, Illinois, Pa.

Should Be Explicit In Asking Statements

Many people write in to the county treasurer for a tax statement, but fail to give the location of the property on which they wish to pay taxes. County Treasurer Aske M. Butler says that it is very difficult to give the desired information unless the location of the property is given when it is desired to pay the taxes.

WOOL POOL ENDS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Late Wednesday evening the wool pool came to a close at the warehouse on Moravia street. This ended the schedule for pooling, but there will probably be quite a few pockets which will be loaded to the warehouse during the summer by some farmers who were unable to follow the schedule. The pool is sponsored by the local growers association of which S. B. Hayes is president.

Broadway Star Sings At Jewish Council Luncheon

Miss Mary Joyce Powell, Star Of "Blossom Time" Gives Repertoire At Luncheon

Elaborate Program Of Council Of Jewish Women Comprises "A Council Melody"

ELLWOOD CITY, June 27.—A successful "Council Melody" was presented by members of the Council of Jewish Women at the club Wednesday noon at a luncheon. Featured on the program was Miss Mary Joyce Powell, former star of "Blossom Time" on Broadway and also a member of the San Carlo Grand Opera company. She gave several lovely selections, a request number being "The Song of Love", a hit from the show. Miss Marian Slom accompanied her on the piano. Covers were laid for 65 members of the council and each place was marked with green, silver or pink bouquets containing numbers on the program. Each guest also received a small coin purse as a favor.

The prime object of the luncheon was to honor Mrs. Ben Baker, president, and the tables made a pretty picture decorated with lovely clusters of pink roses, the color scheme being pink and green. The program was entitled "A Council Melody" with apologies to the Broadway Melody, and showed that much original thought had been expended upon it.

Mrs. Baker was presented with a handsome gift in appreciation of her services to the council and responded with a few well-chosen words of thanks.

The program continued as follows: Miss Evelyn Seckman of Woodbury gave a reading, Mrs. Marcus Pechter of New Castle brought a council message, parodies in keeping with the program were sung by Miss Ann Levy of New Castle accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Leonard Rinehart also of New Castle. Another hit on the program was the original Sketch written by Mrs. Max Rinehart of this city, embodying two characters, Mrs. Rinehart and Mrs. Ed Keller. It was of a humorous nature and was called "The Cohan Sisters Stranded on Broadway". Another unique feature of the meeting was the fact that the little program booklet contained original verses of poetry dedicated to all the officials of the council. From the opening ceremony to the final song the entire program was an unqualified success, due to the efforts of the chairman, Mrs. Edward Keller and her committee.

Guests were present from New Castle, Kittanning, Ford City, Pittsburgh and the Beaver valley.

Immediately following the dinner the business session was conducted at which time plans for the annual class picnic were made. The Laura M. Smith Missionary society and the class will have a joint picnic and will hold it the second Monday in July at the home of Mrs. Carl Runyan at Cella stop.

Blue-Eyed Brunettes

Booster Club
Holds Meeting

Many Items Discussed At Session In City Council Chambers Last Evening

Although the hot weather and conflicting attractions last evening cut the attendance at the meeting of the New Castle Booster club, there was a fair crowd in attendance and a number of matters were brought up for discussion.

George Fox, chairman of the publicity committee, stated that a campaign to boost the club is now being worked out and will be presented for approval soon.

John Connery, reporting for the membership committee, stated that the committee was still at work on a plan to keep the attendance up during the summer months.

One of the members of the organization reported that he had been informed that some of the local bakers were not buying their supplies in New Castle but were patronizing Youngstown wholesale concerns.

The matter of air mail was again brought up, but no definite action was taken. James S. Leslie, assistant postmaster, stated that the poundage here was holding close to two pounds per day.

John Spiro of the Youngstown Towel & Supply Co. was present at the meeting, and told the members that his company had been engaged in business in the local territory for the past 12 years. He stated that when the matter of boosting New Castle had been brought to their attention, they decided to establish a branch office in this city, which was done, and a number of employees were moved here to take care of the business in this territory. He stated that his company was doing everything they could to boost New Castle, and last week had purchased two trucks through a local auto firm.

Several questions were brought up relative to road matters and after some discussion, a proposal was made to create a traffic committee to keep in touch with road building operations in the county so that the club could be intimately informed on these matters.

The questions of new industries and taxation for the same were brought up. The matter was referred to a committee for further information.

Lorenz Schmidt, superintendent of the Castle Hill Mission Bible house, invited members of the Booster club to visit his place on Harding avenue, at the old country club site, and to see the work his organization is carrying on there.

He stated that people who are down and out, have been cared for from all sections of the country, and that it was the only place in the city where people would be taken care of at any hour of the night or day, regardless of color or creed.

He stated that $1,500 worth of improvements had been put on the property, all of which had been paid for, and that often times they were hard pressed to take care of the transients who visited there, but so far they had weathered the storm and were in good financial condition.

An invitation was also extended to the club to picnic at Lakewood beach as the guest of the management.

Members of the organization who are merchants were invited to attend the meeting of the merchants of New Castle which will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

(Special To The News)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The Washington Star, in publishing a column on its editorial page on the first trans-Atlantic airplane stowaway, takes occasion to quote from editorial comment made by the New Castle News on Arthur Schreiber, the youth who crossed the ocean as the uninvited guest of the French fliers on the Yellow Bird.

"The New Castle News sees a compliment to the gallantry of Assolant, when the family leaves. They have Le Fevre and Lotti that they forgave the young man and accepted him as a companion," the Star states.

Perfect cooking
...while you're out of the kitchen

It's amazingly easy to cook delicious meals in the Westinghouse "Flavor Zone" Oven. You merely set the clock on the oven and adjust the thermostat when you put the food in the cold oven. Then you're free until time to serve the meal. The heat comes on automatically and is shut off automatically at exactly the right time. You do not have to baste the meat or add water to the vegetables. And since cooking is entirely automatic, there's never any guesswork about results.

They are as savory and as appetizing as the rich juicy roasts, succulent vegetables and spicy puddings cooked in the famed Dutch ovens of long ago.

Dempsey Writes Of Experiences At Camp

Is In Training For Month
At Barracks Near Carlisle

ABOUT 70 OFFICERS
QUARTERED THERE

Pat J. Dempsey, local ex-service-man in training for a month at Carlisle Barracks, Carlisle, Pa., writes of his experiences during the first week in camp. Approximately 70 Army officers are stationed there, coming from seven or more different states. Dempsey states in the letter that he keeps in constant touch with things in New Castle via The News.

The letter follows:
Carlisle Barracks,
Carlisle, Pa.,
June 24, 1929.

I haven't had much time for writing as we have been on a busy schedule, and the old bunk beds pretty good when we are through with classes.

This is a small camp, probably about 70 officers or more being stationed here. They hail from a wide area embracing New England, which has the largest quota. New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, District of Columbia, Ohio and Indiana. They are mostly junior medical officers and on the whole are a pretty good bunch.

I feel very much at home with the New Englanders, having enlisted from there originally. One gets acquainted very quickly with a group of Army men, so there's not much chance of getting lonesome.

We are under canvas which is ideal except when it rains, which it has had the habit of doing almost every night since we've been here. The rain was accompanied by thunder and lightning. One night we were nearly cleaned out by a terrific storm. All of the other tents were pulled out. The tents have cement floors which makes it easy to keep them clean, and when the water does drift in we can sweep it out again.

Physical training is not neglected for we can be found going through calisthenics at 6:30 a. m. This helps our morning appetite immensely. An hour's drill later in the morning helps keep our discipline and promotes team work, for which the drills are primarily designed.

This is the medical school of the Army, and the staff here constitutes some of the best minds of the medical department. Laboratory work is carried on extensively, and new ways and means of combating disease and pestis, also experiments with equipment of all kinds used by the medical department, are continually in progress and something new is usually on tap.

Our weather apart from the rain has been hot, but the rain has kept things fresh if not so cool. We made an official tour of the battlefield at Gettysburg yesterday and one of the majors conducted us over the field and lectured on the high spots at that momentous conflict. There is also a camp of R. O. T. C. students here numbering into the hundreds, and they accompanied us so we had quite a large party.

The fresh air and life in the open is making me feel good, and I have been eating almost everything on the bill of fare which is tip top.

I receive The News daily so keep constantly informed on things back in New Castle.

I am looking forward to seeing the balance of the delegation next month when Drs. Lutz, Jackson and Reed show up.

With sincere regards,

PAT J. DEMPSEY.

Mr. Dempsey encloses in the letter a training schedule which gives an idea of the work done there. While it is directly applicable to war, still there are many things that can be applied to peace-time pursuits, particularly that part concerning the control of diseases and the various sanitation methods which are taught and demonstrated. Dempsey has been chosen the first sergeant of his company at the barracks.

Mountain Resident Reports Strange Case To Officers

Mountain Resident Hears "Stop" Then Revolver Shot, Sees Persons Fleeing

(International News Service.)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 27.—A shrill cry, "stop!" and revolver shots, heard early Wednesday by M. T. Belling, wealthy lumber dealer who has a mountain home near Braddock's grave, furnished potential murder mystery for police.

Belling, whose mountain home is nine miles east of Uniontown, on the National Pike, told officers he was awakened by the cry and rushed to the window as three shots were fired.

Three men leaped from a machine which had stopped on the road, Belling said, and picked up what appeared to be a human body, tossing it into the backseat.

As a car approached from the opposite direction, the mystery car dimmed its lights and drove away at full speed for Uniontown, Belling said.

Man Is Killed As Airplane Topples

Another Seriously Injured As Plane Falls To Ground At Roosevelt Field

(International News Service.)
ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 27.—One man was burned to death and another was seriously injured Wednesday when an airplane fell to the ground and burst into flames at the east end of Roosevelt Field. The dead man was burned almost beyond recognition. The injured man was thrown clear of the wreckage and was taken hurriedly to Nassau Hospital, Mineola.

It was reported at the hangar, where the airplane had been stored, that the passengers in it were Frank Phillips and Edward Goldsmith. In the confusion immediately after the accident, it could not be learned which one had been killed and which injured.

Ramsay MacDonald Has Them Guessing

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, June 27.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald's announcement in London that he hoped soon to be able to announce something concrete in connection with further naval reduction occasioned some surprise here Wednesday.

Nothing concrete has been put up to the state department yet and administration officials apparently were in the dark as to what the British Premier meant.

In this connection, it was stated that Ambassador Charles G. Dawes had no authority to commit the United States government without reference to Washington, and the receipt of instructions upon each point as it arises.

Estimate 42,050 Radios On Farms; Increase Of 6590

One In Every Five Now Has Equipment, Survey
Reveals

HARRISBURG, June 27.—Forty-two thousand and fifty farms, more than one out of every five in Pennsylvania, had radios on January 1, this year, according to estimates made by the Bureau of Statistics, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. This number represents an increase of 6590 during the past year, and is four times the number reported on farms in 1924.

"No invention in recent years, not even the automobile has increased in popularity among farmers in Pennsylvania so rapidly as the radio," Department officials said. "The growth and the popularity of the radio among farmers have been general throughout the Commonwealth, each county showing a substantial gain during the past five years."

In a survey made by the Department last winter, facts regarding farm radios were revealed an average original cost of radios of $111.36, an average annual expense of $7.39 for operation, and an average daily use of the radio of 2.8 hours.

In stating their preference of programs, the farmers indicated a particular liking for old-time songs, sacred music, church services, political features, sports and barn dances. Of 352 farmers reporting, 274 replied that radio weather reports helped them in planning their farm work, 330 were sure their families would not be satisfied without a radio, and 220 believed that the radio is helping to keep young people interested in farm life.

Lawrence county had 630 radios on farms in 1928 and 600 on January 1, 1929.

Old Folks Say Doctor

Caldwell was Right

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1876, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach, and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

This simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last a family several months and all can use it. It is good for the baby because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

Do give it a trial, to prove how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours.

Max Schmeling And Paulino Battle Tonight

BY RUBE GOLDBERG

Heavies Ready For Big Fight

Herr Max Schmeling Gets Real Test In Bout With Paulino Tonight In New York

MILK FUND TO BE BENEFITED

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor, International News Service
NEW YORK, June 27.—Without the tiny specks of this world, the great oak simply could not be and so it will be tonight at the Yankee Stadium when the heavyweight division will plant its family tree for a new line of champions with a fifteen round fight between Paulino Uzcudun, the Spaniard, and Max Schmeling, of Germany. The old line, of course, is dead. It died with Tunney, who may or may not be even a good guy to the victor but, anyhow, the moment that a Spaniard crossed in there with a German in a major heavyweight fight, quite evidently marks the death of the old and the birth of the new. It fairly mocks the memory of John L. Cochet, Jeffries, Dempsey, Tunney and others who made the American heavyweight the greatest of all fighters.

The winner tonight won't acquire the title, per se. He will have to go on to a September meeting with Jack Sharkey and perhaps an ultimate fight with Dempsey himself but, if a man is a coming champion and knows it, all he asks is the right to meet the nearest contender.

No doubt Paulino and Schmeling feel they are men of destiny. They came to this country as clumps but today they have the eyes of the world upon them and thousands clamoring for choice seats, so good are they. Destiny and his blind darts cannot have missed by far a couple of men who achieve the miracle of notoriety in so short a time.

Schmeling has been unbeaten in America and probably has the greatest punch in all the world today. Paulino has lost some fights here in the last two years but he is tougher than the street below the gas house and nobody ever has played him for a sap.

They are a pair who ought to draw something besides attention but the fight isn't a sell out and won't be. Present indications are that a crowd of 45,000 and a gate of $400,000 will give everybody a break. The promoters, laboring only in the laudable interest of the charitable Milk Fund, had visions of a million dollar sale when they first made the match but they admit now that they blew their chances when they priced the so-called "patron ringside" seats at fifty dollars. The man who has fifty dollars only once a week was scared so badly by this posture that he went home, hid in the cellar behind the barrel of lithia water and since then hasn't been seen in his accustomed haunts.

Fight For Charity
However, the charity will make money, as it always does. So will the fighters, this thought being inserted for no other reason than to allay the fears of those who doubt were distressed about that point. Each will get about $70,000.

They have finished their training. Schmeling at Lakewood, N. J., Paulino at Hooksett Falls, N. Y., and will start early for the scene of their duello. Anyhow, they promise to be early but there is nothing in the articles of agreement about being bright. These are prize fighters.

Paulino will come to the weighing in at two o'clock by airplane from Albany, an innovation. Indeed, Mr. Tunney used to keep his engagements that way but he mustn't be confused with the fighter fellow of the same name. Herr Schmeling will be content to approach in a motor car.

His appearance on the scales may serve to change the odds which have hovered around even money for a week, the guess-out-weight addicts having placed his poundage anywhere between 175 and 187. Paulino probably will Fairbank the situation around 193.

National Open Golf Tournament Starts

Over 145 Of Nation's Best Golfers Tee Off At Mamaronock Course Today

Bobby Jones Is Ranking Favorite; "Darkhorse" May Come Through This Year

By NAN O'REILLY
International News Service Special
MAMARONOCK, N. Y., June 27.—"Ira Couch and Keen Donnelly on the first tee."

With that call the 1920 National Open Golf championship, with a field of 145 starters that includes the greatest amateur and professional sharpshooters in the United States, got under way on the links of the Winged Foot golf club this morning.

Experts generally agreed that a total of anywhere from 292 to 294 strokes for the seventh-two holes of medal play would be low enough to win the prize. Eighteen holes will be played today, eighteen tomorrow and thirty-six on Saturday for the low sixty players and those tied for sixteenth place after thirty-six holes.

Within an hour after the start, half a dozen of the favorites had started down the fairway in quest of fame and fortune.

Willie MacFarlane, the Scotch mathematician who miraculously gained five strokes in nine holes to beat Bobby Jones in a play-off at Worcester four years ago, was the first to attract the attention of the gallery.

The series opener between Chicago and St. Louis is the highlight of the National League schedule today. League of Cincinnati, beat the league-leading Braves, 6 to 4. Kramer being the victor yesterday.

LARGE NUMBER OF APPLE TREES DIE

Throughout this district as well as the entire state, there are a large number of apple trees dying. H. P. McCullough, county agent, when interrogated on the matter, stated that it is due to apple scab and Curculio, an insect.

It might be said in favor of the human life that he don't multiply as fast as the apple scab or Curculio.

White Belts, Gloves Would Prove Good

It is difficult, drivers claim, to recognize the signals, after darkness of the traffic patrolman at Crotona avenue and East Washington street. Sometimes a signal in the dark is not seen and the officer wonders why a motorist does not proceed. The suggestion offered today may be given recognition by the police authorities.

Pittsburgh Seeks Big Amount From Garbage Company

Charge That Reduction Concern Owe City Of Pittsburgh $1,100,000

PITTSBURGH, June 27.—Charges that the American Garbage Company, a garbage and rubbish hauling concern, owes the city of Pittsburgh more than $1,100,000 were made here today by City Controller Henry O. Evans, before the city council conference.

An agent of the city's auditor, the company and the city between 1921 and 1928 revealed the alleged deficit in the amount which should have been retained by the company, to the city, Evans charged.

The company contracted with the city to remove all refuse from garbage and rubbish in excess of $100 a ton, after paying a fixed price per ton, Evans said.

During the life of the contract year contract, Evans charged, the city has collected $400,000. The $1,100,000 is the amount still left to be collected, he said.

Certain items were improperly charged by the company to operating costs, Evans said, and he has been unable to arrive at an agreement with the company.

The council adopted R. J. Anderson's motion asking Evans to present legislation at a special council meeting at 10 a. m. Saturday, authorizing him to appoint the arbitrator.

Theories Differ On Girl's Death

Officials Probing Gruesome Find Of Woman's Head Hanging From Tree Limb

MILFORD, Pa., June 27.—Conflicting theories were advanced today as to how the young woman whose head was found hanging from a tree in the woods near here yesterday met death.

One theory was that the young woman who apparently was about 25 years of age was murdered. Another theory is that she committed suicide.

The head was found hanging from the limb of a tree at Elizabeth Freeman, 15, farmer's daughter, while walking through the woods on the farm of Samuel Thompson. Beneath the body was the head of bones of the woman's body. She had been dead for more than three months, county authorities said. Nearby was a blue or black bag, a water coat and black shoes. All marks of identification had been carefully removed.

The skeleton was brought to an undertaker's parlor here while county detectives attempted to solve the mystery of the woman's death. An autopsy will be held today.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Willie Doody, diminutive desperado, apparently was roaming Chicago streets today in a stolen taxicab while every member of the police department, including a score of detective squads armed with riot guns, hunted him.

The dapper little drug-addict, who is wanted for several murders and who has vowed to blow himself and police to death with nitro-glycerine rather than submit to capture, hailed the cab of John Meek this morning on a West Side street. A large companion was with the small gunman. Both drew revolvers and robbed Meek and drove away in his car.
